WHAT WE ARE

NEW BEGINNING
WHAT WE HOPE TO BE

The new Metropolitan High School should be ready for occupancy sometime in the fall of 1969. The new Metropolitan High School will be located on the site of the existing Second Ward Senior High School, which is almost directly across the street from the new Education Center.

The auditorium and the cafeteria in the high school will be used by the personnel in the center. The school is to be both a comprehensive high school and a specialized school. The specialized program would offer courses in the arts, sciences, and vocational and technical education not available at any other high school in the system. These would include extensive programs in science, business education, distributive education, and performing arts.

Dedicated to . . .

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right . . . "

These are the attributes of the unassuming personality of our dedicatee. Second Ward is fortunate to have such a scholarly and humble person in its ranks.

He never fails to give a listening ear, an understanding mind and a warm smile. He offers the helping hand and the guidance that we so often need. He is imitated, loved, and admired by those who know him. He is sought by those who do not know him. For all of us he is the example of a good friend.

We dedicate the 1968 TIGER to Mr. Nathaniel S. Hinton.

"Are you ready for another day of work?"

"May I help you?"

"I wonder what's coming next?"

Mr. Hinton has the distinction of being the only teacher of a foreign language at Second Ward. His specialty is French.

Principal

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It is my high honor to extend congratulations to the staff of the "1968 Tiger" for a successful yearbook. This annual will be an inspiration to the Second Ward family, graduates and friends – a family which serves its fellowmen and exercises its gifts of intellect throughout this land we love and in the nations of the free world.

To those of you who are presently engaged in study here, remember that every honor you win is an honor for Second Ward; every dishonor that comes to you is a dishonor for Second Ward. Therefore, I admonish you to stand tall in the world that awaits your unique contribution.

May God's blessings be with each of you as you set your sights on the unpredictable future. May fortune and true happiness be your constant companions.

CLASSES

English Is Our Language

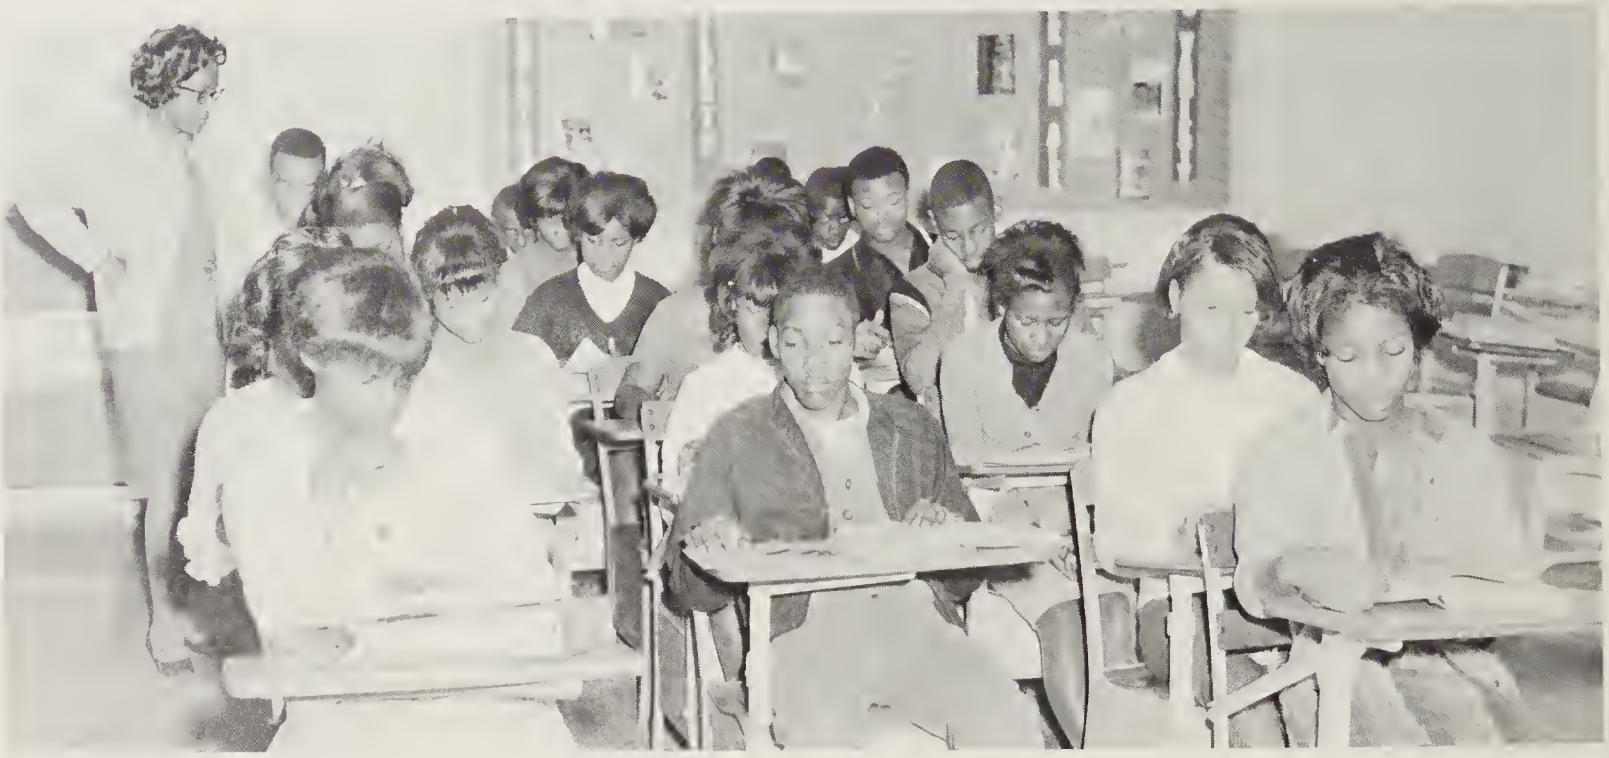
Verbs, Nouns, Adjectives - - -. It's all a review for this English IV class.



The students in this English II class listen as Mrs. Thomas outlines the steps for book reporting.

Literature Spurs The Imagination

Project Opportunity class where "a book a week" is required.

These English II students read Silas Marner.

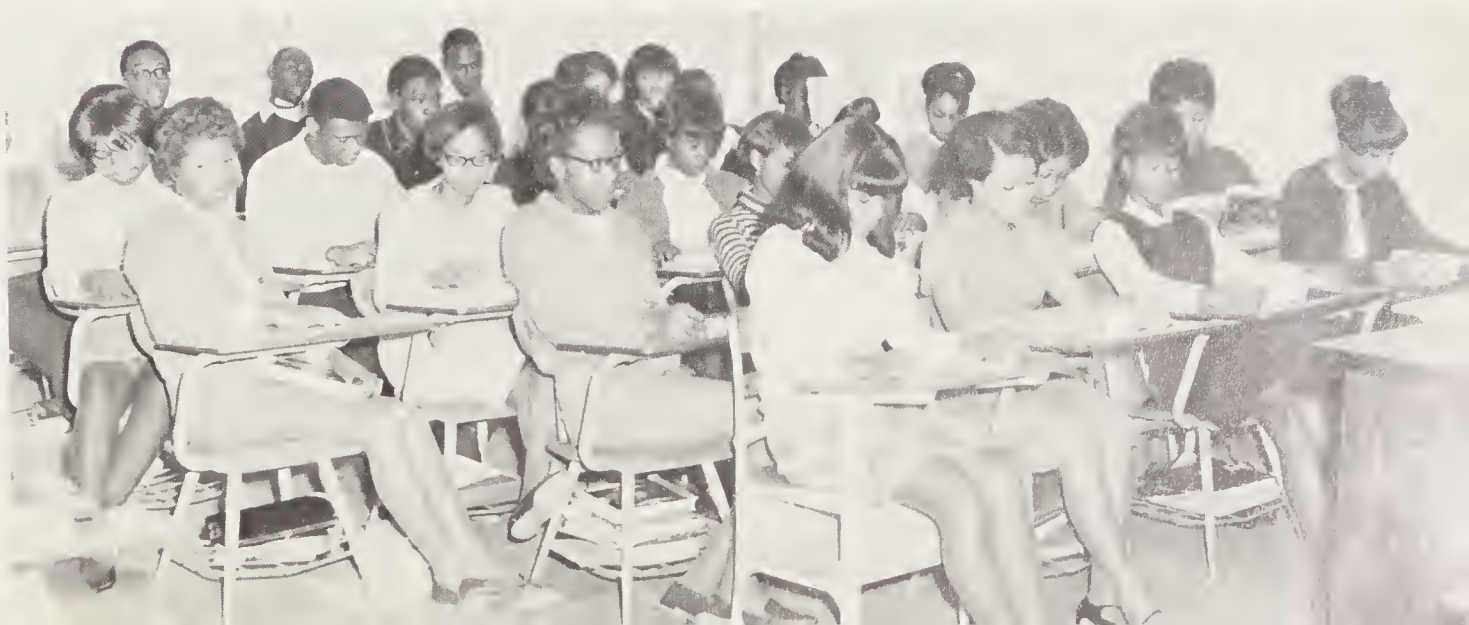
How do we read a short story?

English IV is not a course to be taken lightly. Beowulf, Macbeth, the Canterbury Tales and all of that stuff - - - - - - - -

Students in Journalism I & II learning, newspaper layout, reporting and management.

Another one of Mrs. Maxwell's English classes

Medieval England comes alive in this English IV class.



Rather crude example of staging and costuming, huh?

"Is this a dagger which I see before me?"

Enunciating correctly is much more difficult than it appears to be.

"These are the times that try men's souls."

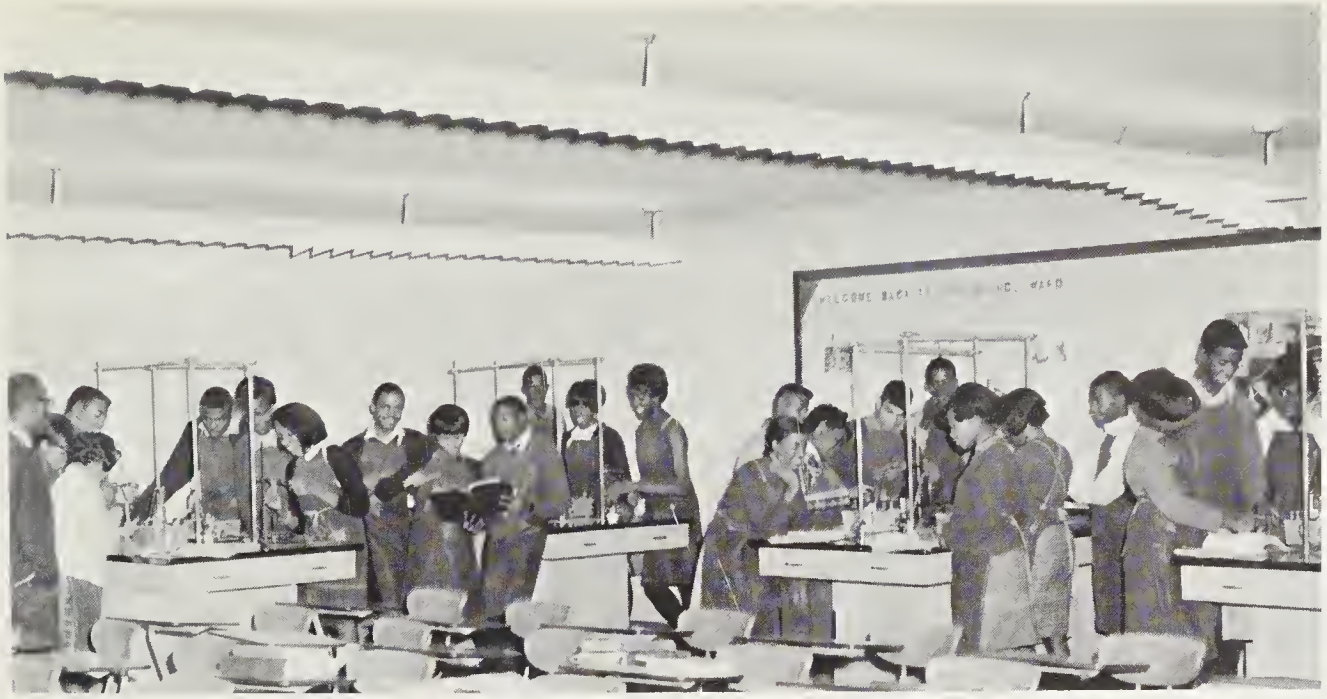
The more they learn about our nation the better citizens they become.

Sine, Cosine, Secant, and Tangent. Can there be any more functions?

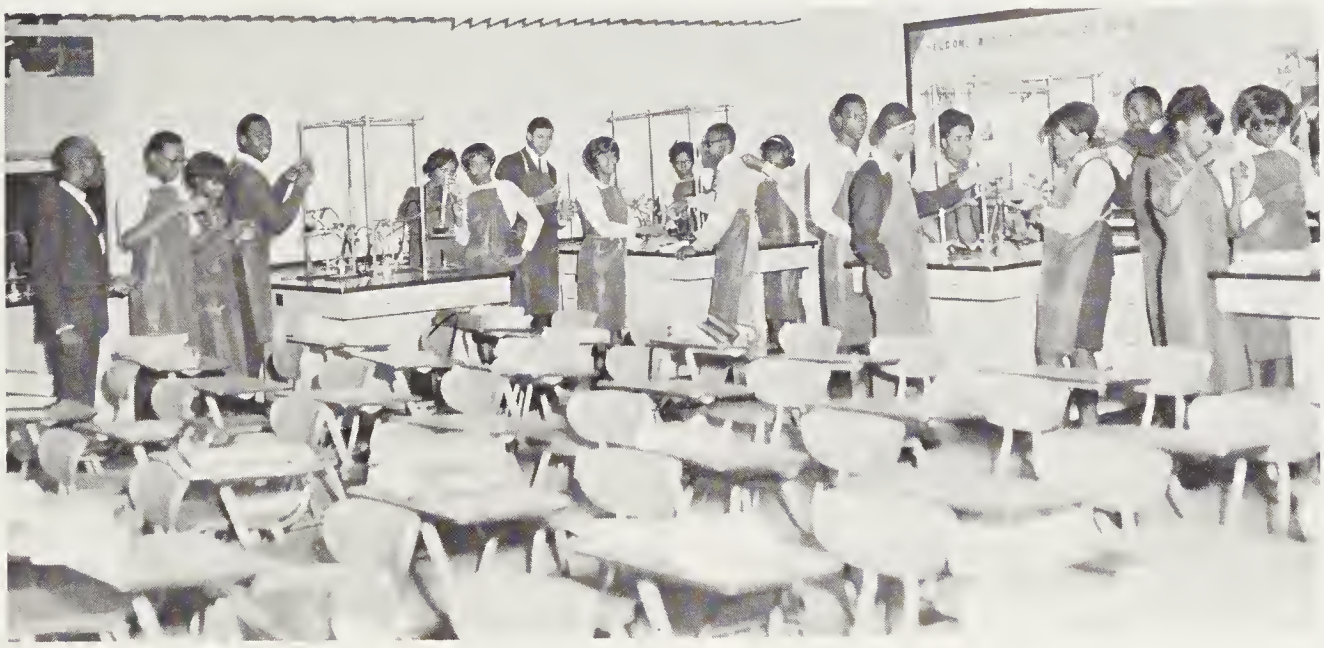
Anyone can find some means to express his artistic talent in one of the art classes here at Second Ward.

"Every genuine work of art has as much reason for being as the earth and the sun." This mosaic, which was done by these art students with the guidance of their very capable teacher, was an asset to the moving Christmas pageant.

Sandblock, pottery, sculpture and painting are some of the crafts students learn.



Students in these chemistry classes learn the scientific method of thinking.

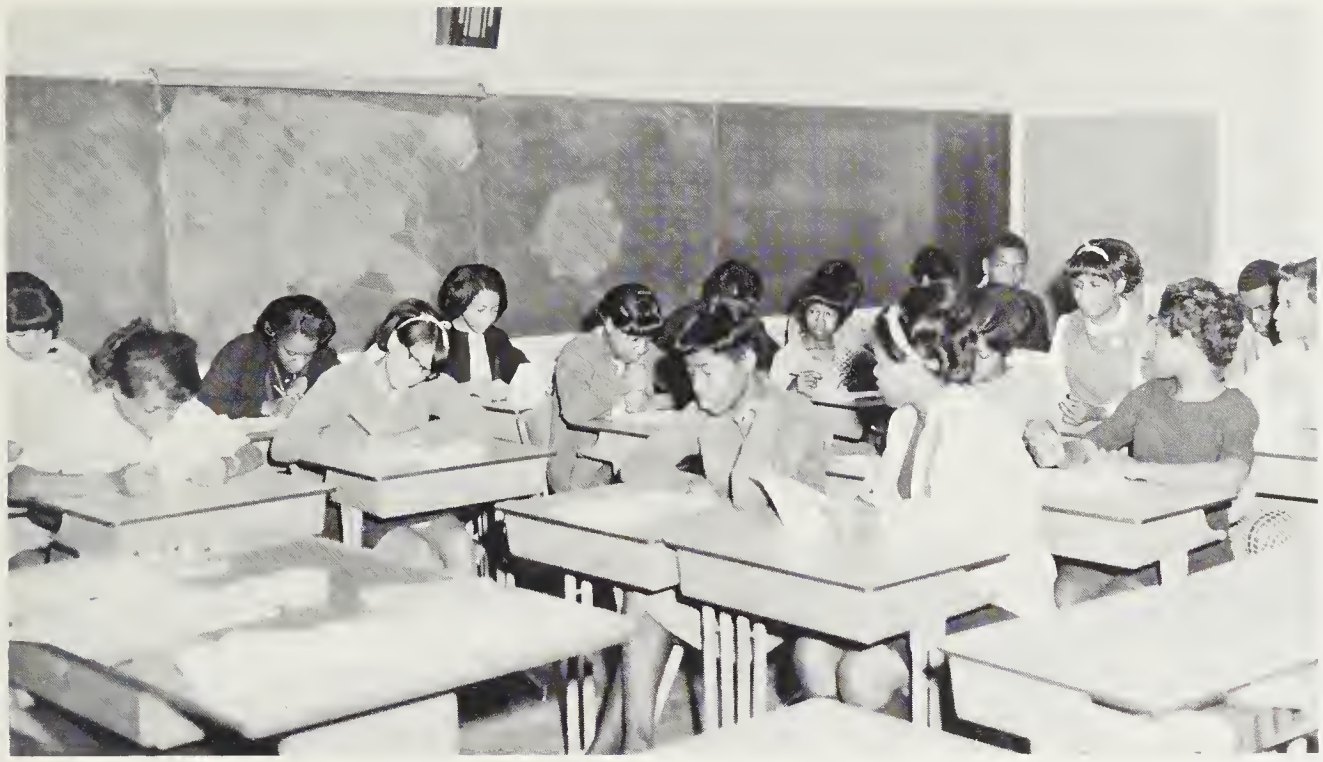


Chemistry requires concentration.

"Would you like some tea?"

Students in clothing learn techniques of dressmaking.

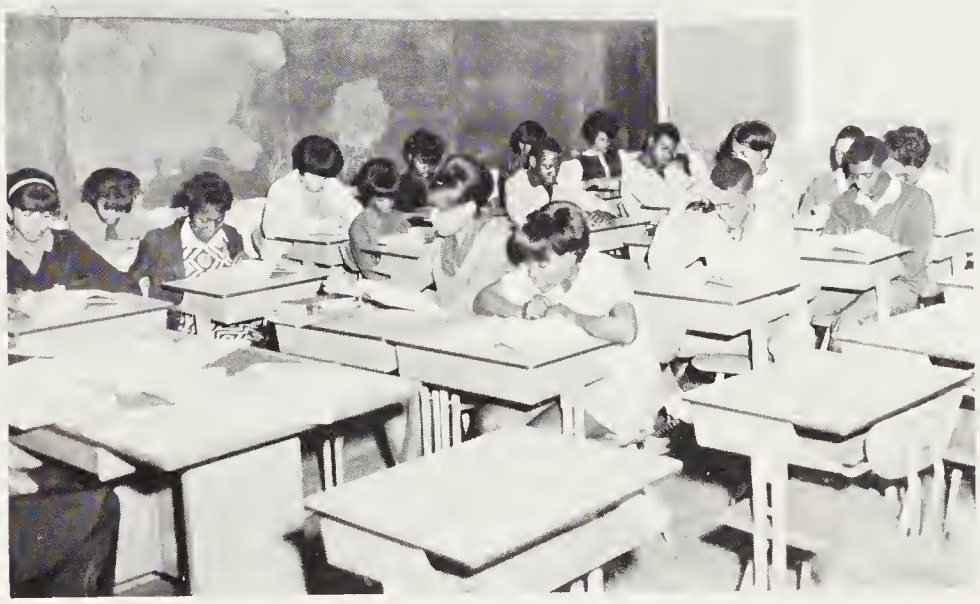
Occupational foods service class prepares these students for a rewarding career.



Will we ever learn to speak this beautiful language?

FRENCH I

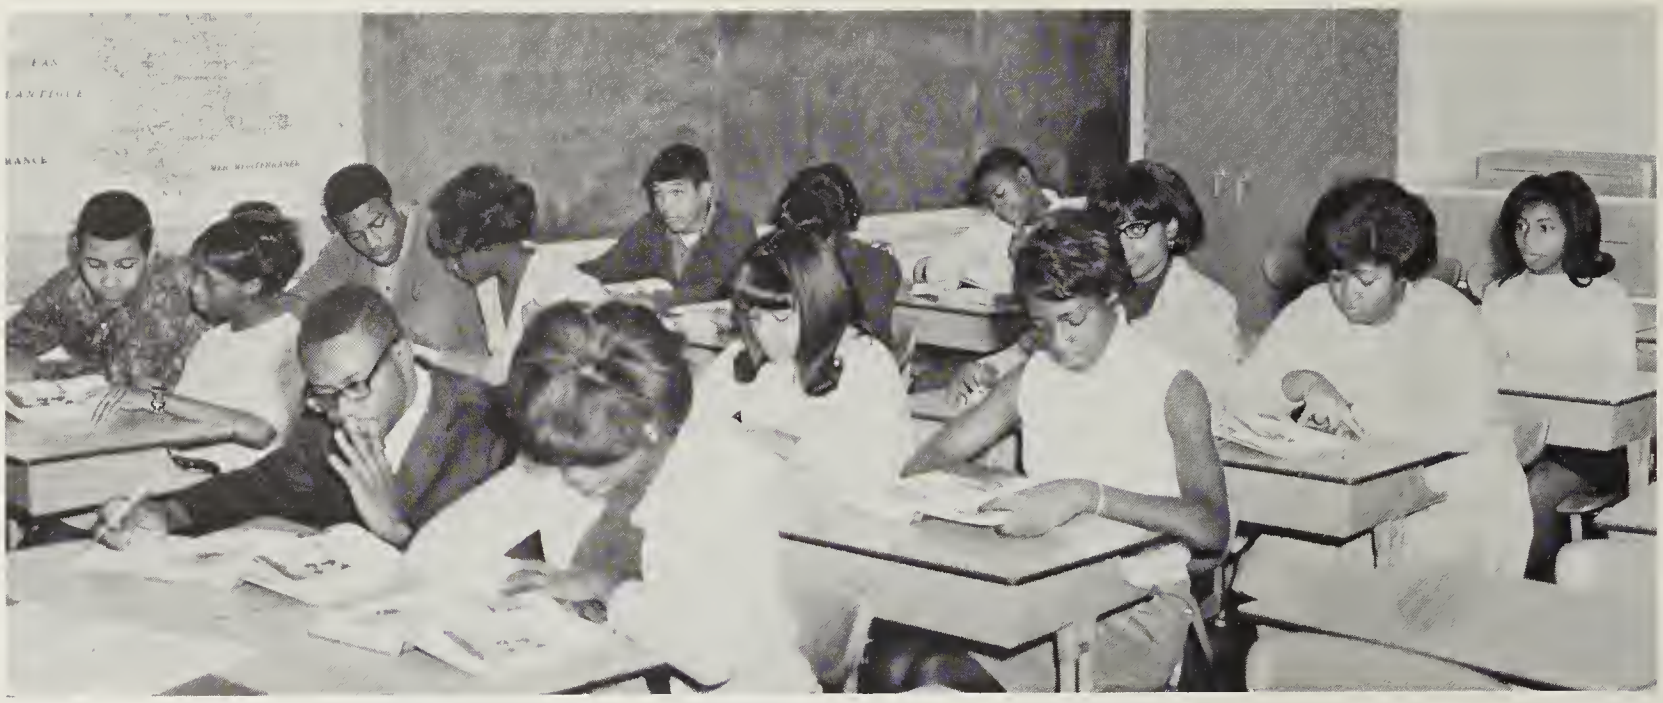
The French classes are designed to help students understand the language, customs, geography and cultures of the French speaking people.



FRENCH II

FRENCH I

"Etre or avoir, which one is used with this verb?"



FRENCH II

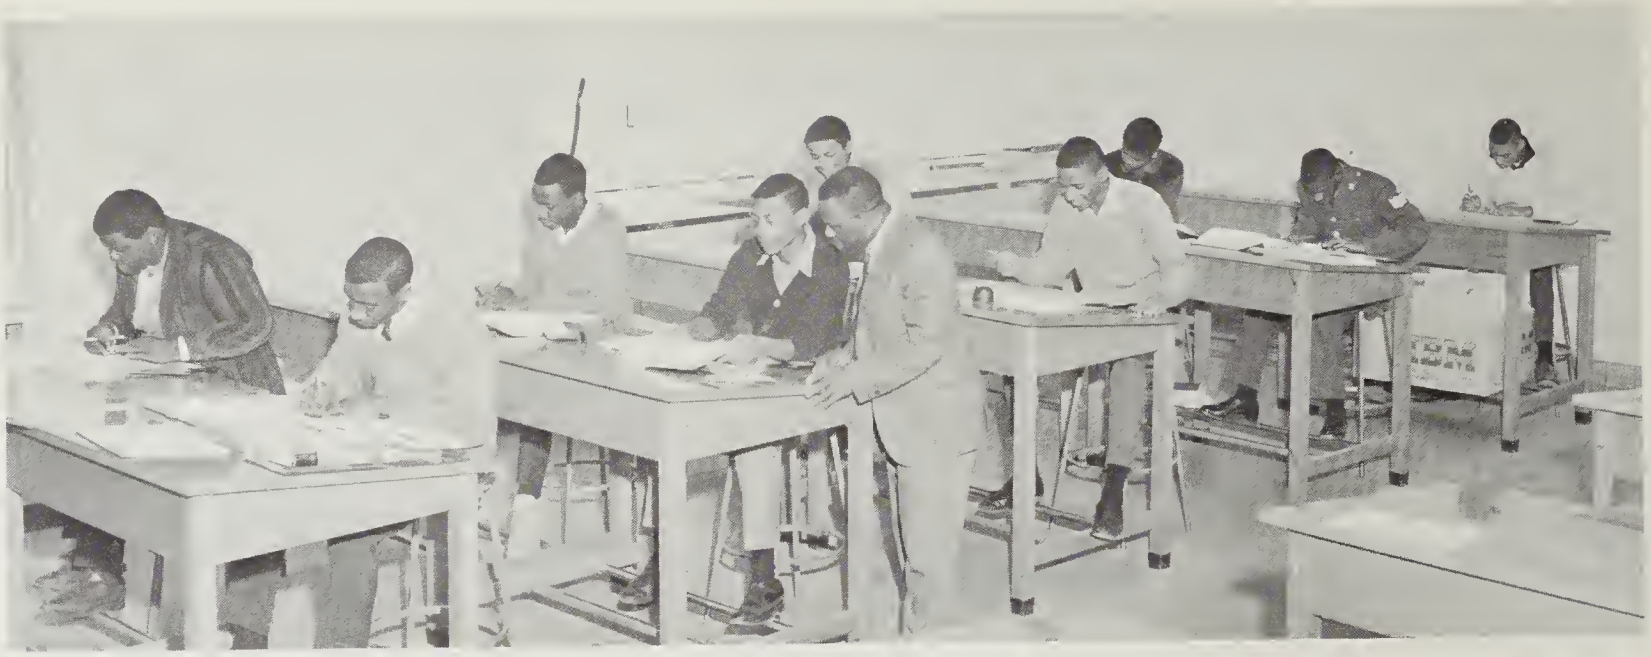
It seemed so easy when Mr. Hinton explained the assignment!

The students pictured above and those in the picture below are doing biology laboratory exercises.

Shorthand prepares these students for positions such as stenographers and executive secretaries.

Business education begins with typing.

COOPERATIVE OFFICE OCCUPATIONS provides practical experience for business students by placing them in apprenticeship positions.



Drafting: future architects and engineers.

Distributive Education I

Students in Tailoring "Snip and Sew"

Marketing: "you must sale your product".

A class in Shoe Repair learning heel replacement.

Students in our Brickmasonary classes eventually become experts in their field.

Students in Auto Mechanics classes acquire a valuable skill.

They'll have the "blue goose" on the road again!

Will they make it to Mexico for the Olympics?
